Tell us something interesting about yourself: My biggest claim to fame has been being the mother of three great kids Andrea, Amy, and Rusty who are doing very well on the rodeo trail. We get to follow Rusty to the NFR again this year. I am just trying very hard not to be an over-the-hill barrel racer. Now my barrel racing granddaughter, Ashley, is the light to follow.

When did you first join UBRA and how long have you been addicted to barrel racing: I have wanted to run barrels as long as I can remember. I first joined the UBRA when I was 17 years old and have been a member pretty much ever since, except for a couple of years when I just couldn't face selling quilt tickets.

Anything else you would like to say: I have a full time job with Alpine School District, help run our Shavings and Feed business, and totally enjoy doing just about anything with my grandchildren.

A little UBRA trivia: I remember when Ogden Pioneer Days and several other PRCA rodeos were strictly UBRA races, the association sponsored a Quarter Horse Show at the old Golden Spike Coliseum to raise money for awards, when we ran every Saturday during June, July, and August in 100 degree weather at Lagoon, and experiencing the excitement of having the first-ever saddle donated for our futurity.

I admire Charmayne James for her horsemanship abilities and what she has accomplished, but Norma Wood will always be my idol.
